

The appearance of propriety is as important as the propriety itself. Clearly there is strong public support to delay the the decision on Broadcast Ownership changes until the public and congress are fully heard. This is the very essence of our democracy. And why is there any rush? Thank you